

POULSBO IN THE PRESS

Sponsored by City of Poulsbo Planning and Economic Development

VOL. 2015 ISSUE 10

7.10.15

A curation of positive economic related news in the vibrant Poulsbo area

State awards Fishline $625,000 grant

Written by Rachel Anne Seymour/Kitsap Sun

North Kitsap Fishline was awarded a $625,000 community project grant from the state for its planned expansions. The nonprofit has been providing food as well as emergency and advocacy services to North Kitsap Since 1967. The food bank, located along Viking Way, provides more than a million pounds of food to more than 3,000 families a year. . . . continue reading

Washington Parent and Educator Installed as President of Nation's Largest Child Advocacy Association

Written by AndhraNews.net

Laura Bay, a parent and educator from Poulsbo, Wash., has been installed as president of National PTA, the oldest and largest volunteer child advocacy association in the United States. National PTA comprises millions of families, students, teachers, administrators, and business community leaders devoted to being a powerful voice for all children. . . continue reading

'We want to create an experience they aren't going to find elsewhere'

Written by Richard Walker/North Kitsap Herald

. . . the vision of those planning The Point Hotel, a four-story, 94-room hotel to be built next to The Point Casino and Event Center. And, as seen in other Native American hotel casino resorts, this economic venture is not just about gambling. . . . continue reading

Former Supercross champion Ryan Villopoto retires at 26

Written by Associated Press/ESPN

Ryan Villopoto had fought back from serious rashes several times during his career, including a 2010 Supercross wreck that left him with a mangled right leg. His latest accident ended on one of the most decorated careers in motocross history. Villopoto announced. . . continue reading

Home Sales sizzling around Western Washington, with volumes reaching 10-year high

Written by Northwest Multiple Listing Service

Temperatures around Western Washington were not the only thing sizzling during June. Northwest Multiple Listing Service members reported 11,453 pending sales last month, the highest volume since August 2005 when members notched 11,546 mutually accepted offers. Last month also marked the fourth consecutive month of 11,000-plus pending transactions. . . "First time buyers are returning to the market, but cautiously. . . continue reading

City of Poulsbo
 Planning and Economic Development
 200 NE Moe Street
 Poulsbo, WA 98370
 (360) 394.9748
plan&econ@cityofpoulsbo.com

