Coast Do It Best Hardware turns 20

Written by Emily Hall/North Kitsap Herald

The first thing that might strike a customer walking into Coast Do It Best Hardware is the variety of merchandise. Nuts, bolts, and wrenches? Got that and more. Walk along various aisles, past the sound of neighborly laughter and the faint smell of wood, and the shopper will find power tools, hand tools, sporting goods. In a whimsical mood? There's some plastic flamingo lawn decorations. Want to get your "12" on? There's Seahwaks gear for next Sunday's game. Like Songbirds? There's an aisle . . . continue reading

Trading Places: Front Street shops, shopkeepers reshuffle

Written by Tim Kelly/Kitsap Peninsula Business Journal

A reshuffling of shops and shopkeepers is rearranging the lineup on Front Street in downtown Poulsbo. The dominoes that started the recent sequence of merchant moves this summer were the closure of Kitchen Karousel, which Sharon Lucas had operated for 20 years, and relocation of The Curious Child to the south end of the bustling street along the waterfront. The Kitchen Karousel vacancy was filled by . . . continue reading

Urban Runoff Harming Coho Salmon is Preventable

Written by The Fish Site

Toxic runoff from highways, parking lots and other developed surfaces is killing many of the adult coho salmon in urban streams along the West Coast, according to a new NOAA study that for the first time document the fatal connection between urban stormwater and salmon survival. The good news is that the same study. . . continue reading

Downtown is a culinary trip through time, cultures

Written by Sara N. Miller and Michelle Beahm/North Kitsap Herald

It's not often that you find a restaurant that takes you back in time. At the Green Light Diner on Front Street in downtown Poulsbo, however, you'll feel like you might see Sandy and Danny sitting in the booth next to you before they head to the sock hop. The green Light Diner is part of the eclectic dining scene on Front Street, which includes Spanish, Italian, Mexican, Scandinavian, and British Isles pub-style culinary experiences. . .
