Internships nurture new generation of creative farmers

Written by Terri Gleich/Kitsap Peninsula Business Journal

On a recent Tuesday, Beck Warner moves quickly among rows of raspberry canes at Full Tilth Farm, filling pint baskets with plump berries and popping an occasional red globe into her mouth. . . After two farm internships and developing an urban multi-plot farming business in Seattle, Warner is partnering with Full Tilth owner Renee Ziemann. Warner still works two days a week as a software developer to be able to follow her passion four days a week at the farm . . . continue reading

State Department rep touts trade deal to Kitsap businesses

Written by Tad Sooter/Kitsap Sun

Business would become cheaper and easier for West Sound companies that export across the Pacific if a new trade agreement is passed, according to a U.S. Department of State ambassador who paid a visit Thursday to the Kitsap Peninsula. Matthew Matthews, ambassador to APEC (Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation), spent Thursday meeting with Kitsap County Business leaders and touring. . . continue reading

Aesthetic medicine and tattoo removal center opens in Poulsbo

Written by Terri Gleich/Kitsap Peninsula Business Journal

A new center in Poulsbo will cater to patients with unwanted skin blemishes and regrettable tattoos. InHealth Image, located at 20700 Bond Road NE, offers skin rejuvenation and tattoo removal using an Enlighten laser, according to a news release. Enlighten harnesses a combination of laser pulses to break tattoo ink and pigment cells into tiny particles, which are then absorbed by the body. . . continue reading
